

KNOCKED TO THE FLOOR by the chair-swinging bartender of a mid-Broadway cafe, an alleged stick-up man is helped to his feet by New York policemen. The man, who fired two shots as he fled, said he was Robert Rankin of Detroit and claimed to have been employed on a big Atlantic liner. Police said he had entered another bar, taken $150 and then handed back $130. Crossing the street, he tangled with Jim Pessolama, a bartender, who picked up a chair and swung when the gun-toting intruder allegedly attempted a hold-up. (International)

When I look at the present Fayette County Jail I think of the county's first jail, which according to one of the old histories, was located near the present structure, and consisted of two hewn log pens, or buildings, one within the other. The walls were about a foot apart and filled in between with stone.

The outer wall was about 24 feet square and two stories in height. It was built about 137 years ago, back in 1811.

At the east corner of this primitive prison was located a door which opened into a hallway some six feet wide, which extended along the northeast side of the building.

A stairway led to the "debtor's room" on the second floor, where persons unable to pay their debts were confined.

On the first floor was a room some 12 by 18 feet used for criminals.

Some unknown person set the jail on fire and it was totally destroyed in 1823, together with the sheriff's small frame structure adjacent to the jail, and the only thing Sheriff Robinson saved was a deer-hide trunk containing some clothing.

In 1825 a new jail was built on the same square, on a little different location. It was a two-story brick structure 15 feet square and arranged inside somewhat like the old log jail.

The walls were only 13 inches thick and several prisoners escaped while it was in use.

New walls and other repairs of the jail were made in 1836, by Benjamin A. Crone, at a cost of $350.

The jail was used until 1839 and a new jail was built in 1840 and '41. It cost $4,700 and was 44 by 35 feet.

The third jail lasted until the present structure was built in 1884 when the new courthouse was finished.

READING, Pa., Sept. 16—(P)—Twenty four ferris wheel passengers received an added thrill at the Reading Fair last night when a drive belt was torn, stranding them in mid-air for two hours.

Operators of the ferris wheel concession decided not to tamper with the machinery while there were passengers on the wheel and summoned the Reading Fire Company.

All 24 were removed by means of a hook and ladder truck.

U. S. Officials In Romania are Told To Get Out

Blockaded Berlin Kept Tense—Reds Stage French Tie-up

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—(P)—The state department disclosed today four members of the American legation staff in Bucharest, Romania, have been recalled on the demand of the Romanian government.

REDS IN JAPAN, TOO
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—(P)—Soviet Russia's ambassador demanded today the 11-nation far eastern commission reverse Gen. Douglas MacArthur's policy banning strikes by government employes in Japan.

Romania had accused the four of taking photographs in a forbidden zone. The United States rejected the accusation and declared the Romanian government's complaints "do not conform to the facts."

This assertion was made in a note which was delivered by Minister Rudolf E. Schoenfeld to the Romanian foreign ministry yesterday.

The note, released by the state department today, accused Romanian police in the city of Giurgiu of having detained the two men and two women clerks of the legation staff for 17 hours incommunicado after the alleged photographing occurred.

It charged that "for 16 hours no member of the group was allowed food or water."

Against this "inexcusable action of the Romanian authorities," Schoenfeld lodged what his own note called an energetic protest.

BERLIN KEPT NEASY
BERLIN, Sept. 16—(P)—Some 150 German youths stoned three policemen in the Russian sector of today, the Soviet-controlled press reported.

This was the third stoning of eastern sector police in recent weeks. The first two drew gunfire from the police and resulted in the death of one Berliner and the wounding of more than 20 others. The Communist police report said the three policemen were returning home from duty when a swarm of youngsters near a "black market center" set upon them and showered them with rocks from nearby rubble heaps.

The reports said the youths were "incited by older people," one of whom was said to be drunk. He was arrested along with 15 boys. The latter were released after several hours, the account said.

A former Berlin official, meanwhile, was reported facing a secret Russian court today. As the east-west war of nerves continued.

An American announcement said the Russians had no authority to fire an official working for the city government and no authority to arrest him.

Both acts, it said, violated four-power agreements.

Two Shows Set for Next Month

The future of "The Best Is Yet To Come" series of variety stage revues today hangs in the balance here.

The showdown will come when the doors open for the third edition of the entertainment next month.

This was disclosed by L. M. Hayes, secretary of the Park Board, the sponsor of the series, and Eli Craig, a member of the ticket committee, after they finished an analysis of the past and took a look into the future.

Hayes said that if the turnout for the next presentation does not come up to expectations, notice would be given Hollywood Productions for discontinuance. He added that the contract provided for three months' notice for termination.

Optimistic View

However, both Hayes and Craig took an optimistic view of the situation. They pointed out that vacations are over now, school has started again and life has settled down to a more normal routine with few of the customary summer distractions. They expressed the

38 Rescued After Shipwreck

NEW YORK, Sept. 16—(P)—Thirty-eight crew members of an abandoned British freighter were rescued today by two ships in the hurricane-lashed north Atlantic, but four others were lost.

Coast guard headquarters said the American rescue ship Cecil N. Bean reported saving 20 crew members of the freighter Leicester from mountainous waves about 400 miles southwest of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

The Bean reported 18 other crew members were rescued by the remainder of the Leicester's 42-Argentine steamer Tropero. The man crew were reported lost.

The Leicester, a 7,266-ton New York bound freighter, was caught in the path of the northward sweeping mid-Atlantic hurricane. She has now been completely abandoned, the Bean messages.

A brief message received by coast guard headquarters said the remainder of the Leicester's crew were lost during the hurricane

Tuesday night. The New York agent for the Leicester said she carried a 42-man crew.

The rescue scene, about 400 miles southwest of Cape Race, Newfoundland, was reported "probably pretty close to the center" of the mid-Atlantic hurricane path, the weather bureau in Washington said yesterday.

Meanwhile, the coast guard received unconfirmed word that the Portuguese fishing schooner Gaspar still was afloat about 300 miles off Newfoundland instead of presumably sunk as first reported.

The coast guard obtained its information by hearing portions of radio talk between the S. S. Cecil N. Bean, an American ship which reported rescuing the 12 persons, and the S. S. Tropero, believed to be a foreign ship.

Both ships apparently were at the scene. The radio operator of the Bean spoke of the stricken ship as a "wreck."

Six Children In Family all Polio Victims

DEERFIELD, Ill., Sept. 16—(P)—Mrs. Luella Huff, whose six children are stricken with infantile paralysis, said today she "can't believe they won't recover."

"It was nothing short of astonishing," she said in an interview. "Their cases first were diagnosed as flu, but when they became violently ill and stiff and didn't want to move, we discovered it was infantile. Three of them came down with it in one day."

The victims, all stricken within the last 10 days are Joanna, 8, Edgar, Jr., 7, Michael, 5, John, 5, Patricia, 2, and Elizabeth, 1. Elizabeth and Michael were taken to the hospital for treatment yesterday; the others are receiving care at home.

Her husband, Edgar, Sr., is a manufacturer's representative. They have been married 10 years and have lived in Philadelphia, Springfield, O., and Lansing, Mich.

Slot Machine Drive Is Pressed in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Sept. 16—(P)—State Liquor Director Dale Dunifon today planned a renewed statewide campaign against slot machines in places holding liquor permits.

Dunifon has requested various internal revenue offices to furnish lists of individuals holding U. S. permits to operate slots and other "playoff" gaming devices.

"It is understood," said Dunifon, "that the department will request lists and that a check will be made to see if any of these places have liquor permits."

"There has been no let-up on behalf of the department as far as enforcement is concerned."

A list from the Cincinnati district of the Internal Revenue Bureau recently disclosed 400 individuals operated the slots in 13 counties and have renewed their federal permits since last July 1.

Nobody Held To Blame In 'Holy Spirit' Death

PALMER RAPIDS, Ont., Sept. 16—(P)—A coroner's jury refused last night to blame any one for the "holy spirit" death of Violet Gogolin.

Witnesses testified at the inquest that Violet, 18, walked into the Madawaska River and drowned Aug. 22 because she was impelled to do so by the "holy spirit."

"I guess," her father told the five-man jury, "it was pleasing to God that way."

The witnesses said Violet's death occurred at the height of a night-long family religious service at Violet's farm home near here. They told the jury she walked into the river after "receiving the blessing at 4 A. M., at the end of seven hours of 'praising the Lord.'"

Violet's sister, Viola, 23, stood on the meeting house dias in an ankle-length dress and recounted how she saw her sister die in the moonlight. She testified:

"Violet said, 'faith is the victory.' She was praising God. I was praising the Lord. Then she walked into the water until it pretty well covered her head."

There was no struggle, Viola said, and Violet did not call for help.

Viola said she went for a boat to help her sister, "but I was pushed back by the spirit."

Miner's Daughter and Socialite Married Despite Difficulties

FOLKSTON, Ga., Sept. 16—(P)—Polo playing Francis Hitchcock and tall, willowy Stephany Saja, a Pennsylvania coal miner's daughter, were honeymooning today after a surprise elopement to this south Georgia "Gretin Green."

The 23-year-old bride, who left her native Windber, Pa., and went to New York to become a clerk in a brokerage firm, was married to the balding 39-year-old Hitchcock here last night by Charlton County Judge A. S. McQueen.

A simple single ring civil ceremony was used in the nuptials. It was the first marriage for the bride, the third for the socialite groom.

The last legal barrier to the wedding was removed Tuesday at West Palm Beach, Fla., when Circuit Judge C. E. Chillingworth granted a divorce decree to Mrs. Marie Grammer Hitchcock, the groom's second wife, on her counter suit.

Hitchcock, however, still faces the possibility of a perjury investigation directed by the court at the time the decree was entered. The question raised was whether Hitchcock had perjured himself in obtaining a Florida marriage license by saying he was divorced.

A Georgia license issued by McQueen was used in the wedding here last night.

Manager of Circus Held for Crowding

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 16—(P)—Arthur M. Concello of Sarasota, Fla., manager of the Ringling Brothers-Barnum & Bailey Circus, was arrested last night and booked on charges of violating state fire laws governing tents and similar structures.

Fire Marshal Sidney O. Roppe, said the tent had a seating capacity of 8,000 and alleged the circus had crowded "an additional 1,500 into the tent."

"We've played every city in the country over 20,000 population and this has never happened before," Concello said.

"The fire department," said Roppe, "does not want a repetition here of what happened at Hartford, Conn."

The Ringling tent caught fire July 6, 1944, causing a stampede that brought death to 168 persons and injury to 487.

Memory Better As Prosecutor Asks Questions

Insanity Defense Cracks When Daniels Is Cross-Examined

BY JAMES E. WALTERS
MANSFIELD, Sept. 16—(P)—Robert Muri Daniels testified today he believed "to a certain extent" that he killed a state penal official, his wife and daughter.

The 24-year-old Columbus youth, talking in a voice almost inaudible even in the small Richland County courtroom, said in a cross-examination:

"I believe that I killed them—to a certain extent—but as far as certain knowledge—I can't say I did."

Memory Stands Test
His halting statement came as a climax to one hour and 50 minutes of cross questioning by Prosecutor Theodore Lutz.

The nattily-dressed Daniels was at times philosophical and frequently he smiled as he recalled various incidents of a 14-day crime-spree during which he and his slain partner, John West, are accused of killing six persons.

Daniels is on trial here for the kidnap-killing of John Niebel, Mansfield Reformatory Farm superintendent; his wife, Noland, and daughter, Phyllis.

His attitude in giving testimony today was in contrast to that of yesterday, when he appeared nervous, and confused. Today his memory appeared better, and he gave straight-forward answers. Too, he appeared more calm.

Kidnaping Admitted
Just as he did yesterday, Daniels admitted he and West kidnaped the Niebels and took them to the cornfield where the bodies were found.

Again Daniels insisted he could remember nothing after West fired his gun.

At this point Daniels lowered his voice, slouched lower in the witness stand and said:

"I'm not trying to say I lied out of it—I just don't know."

Then he said he believed "to a certain extent" he killed the Niebels.

During the cross-examination, Daniels said he wanted to clear up one point.

"There's been a lot of publicity about rape and unnatural sex acts (in connection with the Niebel slaying)," Daniels said.

"I'd like you to question the coroner to see if there was anything like that done."

"I'm sure you'll find there wasn't."

Two Other Charges
Daniels also is under first degree murder indictments in two other counties for three other slayings.

Defense Attorney Beam had Daniels giving testimony which he hoped would discredit police officers to whom the defendant made statements after his capture near Van Wert.

Denying again he had planned the Niebel murders, Daniels testified:

"I said I planned to get Harris for four years (Red Harris, guard at the Mansfield Reformatory who Daniels charged treated him badly), but I didn't say I planned to kill Harris. I didn't know Mr. Niebel."

He stated officers had lied to him in taking down his statements and that when he was captured he had not "begged for mercy" as Sheriff Roy Shaffer of Van Wert County had testified earlier.

Prosecutor Lutz took over for cross-examination when Attorney Beam completed his questioning of Daniels.

Memory Refreshed
The prosecutor asked several (Please Turn to Page Two)

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 16—(P)—The electric fan in Edward Renert's butcher shop wasn't exactly for the purpose of cooling him or the meat he tossed on the scales.

Renert, 40, pleaded guilty yesterday of shortweighting a customer. Inspector Patrick Gibbons of the Bureau of Weights and Measures testified that the butcher trained his fan on the sensitive scales—and the air stream depressed the scales.

Electricity is cheaper than meat but Renert must pay $150 fine or go to jail for 30 days.

Drills Increase For WHS Band As Opener Near

Formations Polished For Sept. 26 Show At Cleveland, too

The Washington C. H. High School band is polishing up the rough spots for its performance at halftime of the Brown-Rockets football game in the Cleveland Stadium September 26 and working hard this week in anticipation of its opening performance Friday at Gardner Park.

Two hundred and forty eight band supporters and football fans from here are to leave on the YBM excursion train.

Perse Harlow, chairman of the train committee said the tickets had been sent Wednesday to the Browns headquarters. Including the tickets to those who will drive from here, a total of 328 were sold before the final count was made and the tickets sent in, Harlow declared.

Joseph Casey, B and O passenger agent will be in Washington C. H. Friday to make final arrangements for the train which is to leave here early in the morning Sept. 26. Tentatively, the train will be ready for passengers at 5:30 A. M. and will leave at 6 A. M. The diner will be ready to serve breakfast when the train arrives.

Band Drills Pressed

The WHS Band has been concentrating on the Gardner Park performance Friday this week. There was a total of three and a half hours of practice Wednesday with two and a half of them under the lights Wednesday evening.

One of the features of Friday's performance will be a "stick out-line" of the "Old Gray Mare" to the tune of the same name. Bill Cliff, band director, says this will be one of the formations used at the Browns-Rockets show.

Two more formations will be used at the Cleveland game for the band's solo part of the show. One is a rocking chair while a modern arrangement of "The Old Rocking Chair" is played. The chair rocks. The other is a moving steamboat, paddle and all, that will go down the field to the tune of "Steamboat Bill".

After solo performances by the WHS band and the Browns' "Majorettes," the two bands will get together for several formations and a finale.

Unusual Formation

A shield of the WHS Band and a cross of the "Majorettes" is one of the formations while "The Old Rugged Cross" is played. The bands, while playing, will go into a double line cross with the Browns' Majorettes taking the center positions; then into a block formation with WHS Band on both sides of the Majorettes, and off the field as "Onward Christian Soldiers" is played.

At Friday's game, the WHS Band will open the season with forming the numbers 1-9-4-8 and playing the "Go Washington" theme. "Wave the Flag" and "Across the Field" at halftime from the LM formation will honor the visiting team.

The band then goes into a double-line W for the home team. "Anchors Aweigh," "Billboard" and "Symbol of Honor" are three marches that will be played during the Gardner Park performance. At the end of the halftime show here, the band goes off the field to "Go Washington".

National Guard Day Celebrated With Display

Co. M History Brought To Attention Of The Public

National Guard Day Thursday is the eighth anniversary of the entrance of the guard into federal service before World War II, as well as the second anniversary of its reorganization after the war.

Company M, with 60 men is sponsoring a display in Craig Brothers Store window Thursday in honor of the day and City Manager Winston W. Hill has proclaimed Thursday National Guard Day. It was proclaimed on a national scale by President Truman.

The guard itself dates back in America to the North Regiment of the Massachusetts National Guard in 1636. Company M was formed in 1916, according to Captain Darrel Williams, who said Howard Allen, O. E. Hardway and Rell Allen were active in its formation.

In 1916, Co. M had field duty at the Mexican border and mustered out of the old Ohio Fourth Regiment Co. M then became part of the 166th Infantry Regiment.

During World War I, the 166th was part of the 42nd Rainbow Division for some time, a part of the 37th division in the Philippines in World War II, it also saw duty in Atlantic and Gulf coastal territory as part of the Southern Defense Command. It trained in Louisiana and acted as training troops for officers' training at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. Guardsmen of the 166th were also in Aruba, Caracas, and Trinidad.

In two years of reorganization, the National Guard has grown to 317,000. It was 300,000 strong before entry into the second World War.

The top limit for the national guard, 341,000 is being approached now, according to national officials, but there are still places for good men in special classifications, they say.

Officials hope to build the guard to an ultimate strength of 684,000 men with 27 divisions, 12 wings, and 21 regimental combat teams. Congress set the 341,000 strength ceiling for this year only.

There will be six cheer leaders to encourage the Blue Lion rooters at football and basketball games this year.

Three of them—Peggy Norris, a senior; Barbara Browning, a junior and Carolyn Hatfield, a sophomore—are veterans of from one to three years. The other three—Rosann Dawson, a freshman; Mary Lou Sollars, a sophomore and Jean Badger, also a sophomore—will make their first appearance in their new roles Friday night when the Lions meet the boys from Linden-McKinley High School of Columbus on the Gardner Park gridiron.

For several years, WHS has had but four cheer leaders. One, Jean Howard, was graduated last spring.

A dozen girls tried out Monday before the high school student body for the three new places.

They were chosen later by secret ballot in a schoolwide election. The three who served last year went by wide margins in the voting. The three newcomers edged the other six aspirants in fairly close contests.

TYPHOON LASHES JAPAN

TOKYO, Sept. 16.—(P)—Ten central Honshu prefectures were lashed by a typhoon tonight as winds up to 60 miles an hour zipped east of metropolitan Tokyo.

At least two were dead, three injured and 23 missing in the 10 prefectures, early reports indicated.

Torrential rains deluged sections north and west of Tokyo sending rivers on rampages. Thousands of Japanese fled as rivers threatened to engulf their homes.

Fears were expressed for the ripening rice crops.

Residents of Shimizu, 80 miles south of here, cringed with terror as four storm loosened Japanese vessels were tossed about the harbor where the American freighter, Governor Bibbs, was trapped as it loaded explosive ammonium nitrate, the type of cargo that wrecked Texas City last year.

The center of the storm passed west of the city at 8:30 P. M. (7:30 A. M. EST).

Haneda airport reported only slight damage from the high winds. Government trains which had been halted, resumed their schedules. There were frequent power interruptions during the night.

The Tone River and its tributaries were causing the most concern north of Tokyo.

leading questions in an attempt to show Daniels had a remarkable memory.

Yet, during two hours and 15 minutes of always-rambling and frequently incoherent testimony yesterday, Daniels once blankly told the three-judge court hearing his case:

"I'm not nuts. I'm not nuts. I know I'm not nuts."

A little later, Daniels admitted he and his slain partner, John C. West of Parkersburg, W. Va., kidnapped the Niebels and took them to the cornfield where the bodies were found.

The defendant testified he "couldn't truthfully say" if he shot down the three.

"I do remember right up to the time the Niebel family was lined up," Daniels said, rubbing his face and giving the appearance of a man attempting to recall some insignificant incident of years ago. "To be truthful—at times—I don't know—it seems to have been—I seem to have realized later that during the previous day or so I fired a gun," he added.

Grain Markets

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Most grain futures held steady on the Board of Trade today despite a break in cash corn and soybean prices.

Wheat, oats and new crop corn held small fractional gains most of the session. Wheat and oats were aided by government purchases of these grains here yesterday. Some buying in new crop corn was based on the belief that prices are too far under the potential government loan.

September corn provided most of the market's interest. It jumped about in a wild manner, being strong at one moment and weak at another. Open interest at the start of trading totaled 13,780,000 bushels.

Start of the new crop harvest has caused a collapse in soybeans prices. The price has plunged more than $1.00 a bushel in the past few days.

The Nation Today

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is the first of three articles on the anniversary of British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's world-rocking attempt to appease Hitler, as eye-witnessed by the writer.)

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

This day ten years ago your columnist boarded a chartered plane in London and pursued Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, who was flying to Adolf Hitler's Alpine retreat at Berchtesgaden, in the British statesman's first efforts at appeasing the Nazi dictator.

That was the beginning of three tense weeks which changed the history of the world. Those dramatic days were part of my journalistic life, and I venture to recall them briefly in our column because after only one decade we again are faced with an international situation having momentous potentialities.

The 69-year-old Chamberlain—an honest and high-minded but unlucky statesman—flew to Berchtesgaden in an effort to try to find a peaceful solution to the crisis which was menacing world tranquility. The phrase "peace in our time" was an irresistible magnet, and so the gaunt, gray, gentle old man made a date with the mad-dog dictator.

War seemed to be approaching with terrible swiftness. Anthony Eden, who had resigned his position as British foreign secretary because of opposition to his prime minister's policy, was insisting that concessions to dictators "are not the way to peace." On September 12 Hitler made an angry speech demanding "self-determination" for the Sudeten Germans in western Czechoslovakia. Britain had a mission in Prague to mediate between the Sudeten Germans and the Czechoslovak government, but its efforts collapsed. There was bloody fighting near the German frontier between Czechoslovak gendarmes and Sudeten Germans. The British cabinet met in emergency session.

It was in this tense atmosphere that Chamberlain telegraphed Hitler for a conference, which the fuhrer set for Berchtesgaden. French Premier Daladier had urged Chamberlain to make the effort. France pinned her hope of peace on this fateful parley.

The prime minister never had flown before and his experience should have been a premonition of dire events, for he became very air-sick (as did I) and ordered his plane to land so he could continue by train. However, there was no room for premonitions in a mind through which "peace in our time" never ceased to sough like an autumn wind in the trees. He didn't know there could be such evil persons as Hitler. He thought that right must triumph.

So the two chiefs of government met in the fuhrer's "castle" on a peak rising from the sweet valley of Berchtesgaden, through which ran the trout stream which Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering stocked for himself. Within a few hours the little, old-world hamlet was jammed with correspondents from many points of Europe. Telegraph and telephone facilities were utterly inadequate to deal with the press messages. However, we managed to tell our story of the three hour conference, and I find from the files that I reported as follows:

It was clear to observers that if peace grew from the conference it would be predicted on the sacrifice by Czechoslovakia of some Sudeten territory to Germany. The supposition in informed circles was that Chamberlain would take back a proposal relating to the

Hog Cholera Cases Few in This County

Losses in Bygone Years Were Heavy Every Year

Due to almost general immunization to prevent the disease, there is practically no hog cholera in Fayette County at the present time, veterinarians report.

In bygone years swine losses almost every year reached into the tens of thousands of dollars as thousands of hogs fell victim to the plague.

Then came county-wide quarantine and immunization, with the result that since that time losses have been light.

In terms of dollars and cents, protection against hog cholera is four times as important to American swine raisers this fall as it was ten years ago, the American Foundation for Animal Health declared today.

"Hogs have been selling at $25 to $30 a hundredweight in recent weeks," the organization pointed out. "Compared with similar periods in past years, these prices are four times as high as the 1938 level and twice as high as the 1945 prices."

"Therefore, the financial loss due to hog cholera this fall would be the highest in history if swine raisers did not take every precaution to protect their stock. Cholera is still America's No. 1 killer of swine of all ages."

The American foundation offered farmers the following pointers on hog cholera prevention:

"Guard against bringing the cholera virus onto your farm on annexation of Sudeten Germans by Hitler.

Time confirmed this. However, the communique issued at the end of the conversation merely said there had been "an extended, frank exchange of views, and that there would be another meeting."

Chamberlain returned to London the next day. He was met at the airport by a big crowd which greeted him with cries of "good old Neville," as a mark of appreciation for his efforts to maintain peace. He told the assemblage:

"It was a frank-talk, but it was a friendly one. I feel satisfied that each of us fully understands what is in the mind of the other."

Poor old Chamberlain—and poor old world. They were to learn in a few days what really was in Hitler's wicked mind.

clothing, bags, wagons or other equipment.

"Have newly-purchased stock examined, and quarantine the newcomers until you are sure they are not disease carriers."

"Have all pigs vaccinated, preferably around weaning time. First however, make sure that the pigs are in physical condition to receive vaccination. Take no chances on inexperienced handling of the virus."

"If the unprotected swine shows signs of fever, loss of appetite, or weakness, suspect cholera first. Have the trouble diagnosed immediately, isolate the ailing animals, and warn your neighbors."

If one female fly started a line of "hatch-proof" eggs they would produce 131,000,000,000,000,000,000 descendants within six months.

Handicapped To Get Chance

Nationwide Drive to Begin October 3

City Manager W. W. Hill tomorrow will officially proclaim October 3 to 9, inclusive as National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week in Fayette County and will call upon employers, civic organizations and the general public to support the drive to find jobs for handicapped persons qualified for such jobs by reason of their skill and experience.

The proclamation will be signed in the City Manager's office and will be issued in the presence of Fred Rost, chairman of the local NEPH Week committee and Ward C. Miller, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service.

NEPH Week, being commemorated this year for the fourth consecutive time, came into being by congressional resolution which specified that the week's purpose was "to enlist public support for and interest in the employment of otherwise qualified but physically handicapped workers."

City Manager Hill's proclamation will come on the heels of similar actions taken by both President Truman for the nation and Governor Thomas J. Herbert for Ohio. Herbert has called upon "the mayors of cities, the heads of all instrumentalities of government, business, labor, farm, religious, education, veterans, women, civic, fraternal and all other groups" to actively participate in making the 1948 NEPH campaign "the most notable of all observances."

The NEPH Week campaign in Fayette County will be spearheaded by government, civic, employer, labor and veterans representatives all of whom are serving on the local NEPH committee. The slogan "it's good business to hire the handicapped" is being used both locally and nationally to promote the truth that the physically handicapped, if placed on the right job, are the equals of their non-handicapped co-workers.

Improvements Needed If We Are To Progress

A stern and a striking fact which this city of Washington C. H. faces is the need for some public improvements if this community is to continue to make progress.

Sooner or later various things must be done here. If we understand this situation and meet it realistically, the earlier we plan and provide for them, the less costly they will be, also the more benefit will accrue with greater chance for city growth.

For years this city has been running along barely meeting its current expenses. In recent years, under a city manager form of government, it has done a fairly good job of meeting its current bills and payrolls, doing emergency street repair work and making a very limited number of small improvements. The small amount of the tax dollar collected here, which has been received by the city has made it impossible to do more than that.

Such things as a greatly needed modern and complete sewage disposal plant, a well organized garbage disposal system, substantial street improvements in many places, better sewer facilities, and several other such improvements have gone begging. City officials and most forward-looking citizens have realized this but lack of far-sighted leadership and constructive public thinking on civic needs has resulted in merely following of lines of least resistance.

We cannot expect the best in modern city service without paying for it. To this end this community should start thinking in terms of what Washington C. H. must have and must do within the next five to ten years.

There are a number of major essential improvements required here. We must find the best and most equitable method of financing them. Real estate should not bear all the burden. Others who benefit should share it. Before deciding this we must have some real consideration toward providing a well thought-out overall plan, instead of only doing piecemeal patchwork. Engineering skill for such a plan is vital. And when a constructive pattern for early future improvement is outlined, there must be enough publicity and enough public meetings and live interest to sell the people on what is needed and on the best method of financing such procedure.

We have been sitting tight and merely "getting along" on the city's meager income without thinking ahead. Washington C. H. is growing, slowly but surely. We must recognize this and deal with it, or we can very easily slip backward to a serious degree.

Now, not next year or 1950, is the time to start thinking and planning ahead, and starting action. Will we do it?

Lanes

A residential suburb of a large city decided that the distance between two streets leading to and crossing a main thoroughfare was too great. Instead of cutting through a new street, the town made a lane or footpath for pedestrians only. They are the ones to be inconvenienced by a long distance. To the motor car driver a few extra hundred yards are nothing.

Lanes cost far less than streets. They do not need as much land to lay out, and their upkeep is far less. They give a rural effect to the neighborhood, which could be reflected in higher property values. Why are there not more of them?

Allowances are made for everyone's failure to come up to expectations, except in the case of a baseball manager or football coach.

Miss America Is Well-Rounded

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — (AP) — The new Miss America is a well-rounded little thing like Barney Ross or Mickey Walker, the toy Bulldog. She is taller, I believe, than Jim Linder, the ex-heavyweight champion wrestler.

Furthermore, Miss Beatrice Shopp, who won the Atlantic City beauty pageant, can drive a tractor, loves to clean fish, and plays the piano and drum. And this red-blooded, clean-cut, Minnesota farm girl, richer by $16,000 in prizes, has sternly served an ultimatum on Hollywood: she will appear in no films unless they let her perform on the vibraphone.

All of this is very confusing to those who cling to the old-fashioned idea of romantic beauty as symbolized by a pale and love-lorn lady languishing in a high tower as she waits to be rescued. What knight wouldn't feel a bit silly galloping to the aid of a strapping lass who can kill, clean and cook a chicken for lunch and lays down stern terms to the movie moguls?

Philosophers can see in the triumph of Miss Shopp a tribute to the new American worship of the dominant female. Of her beauty there is no doubt. She is clearly lovely. But twenty years ago what chance of victory would a growing 18-year-old girl have who stood five feet nine inches, weighed 138 pounds, and had a 37-inch bust measurement? None at all. Beauty was then in smaller packages than now.

The victory of this tall, robust, baby-faced brunette who neither smokes nor drinks is a clear confirmation of the belief held by most Europeans that Americans always demand bigger and better things.

And there is no doubt that in the United States everything over the years is steadily growing bigger—from our population to our national debt.

But to win her crown the new Miss America had to do more than demonstrate she had more curves than a mountain road. She had to display poise in an evening gown as well as charm in a bathing suit. She had to show cultural talent. And she had to evidence a winning personality. The judge estimated the personality by having breakfast with the contestants. This was a rough test indeed, for what woman feels her personality is best at breakfast time?

By adding tests of character and culture as well as mere physical beauty, the Atlantic City contest shows a new trend in the American mind—its tendency to admire people of multiple talents.

In the old days the American loved a hero with one outstanding virtue or ability. They went to see Babe Ruth hit a home run, and few cared whether he also took out books on Spinoza from the public library. They liked to see Jack Dempsey come back into the ring and knock out Firpo, and if he couldn't dance the rumba—so what? Einstein was admired for his brain. Who worried how he looked in bathing trunks at the beach?

But today a champion is expected to be able to do a lot of things. So are politicians. Abraham Lincoln might have trouble getting elected unless he learned to play the guitar.

You have to be an all-around champion now. What chance would Helen of Troy have against Miss Shopp? Could sweet Helen, who launched a thousand ships and made men immortal with a kiss, drive a tractor or play a vibraphone? Could the armless Venus De Milo cook with her feet? And poor old Cleopatra—why she couldn't even earn a good conduct medal.

No, the ancient beauties wouldn't win, place or show at Coney Island. Today a prize beauty has to be well rounded, above as well as below the belt.

Ads and Taft-Hartley Labor Law

By George E. Sokolsky

The Paper Box Makers Union Local 229, International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, A. F. of L., published what is meant to be a sarcastic advertisement against the Taft-Hartley act. I do not choose to read it in the tone of serious comedy with which its authors gild it. Rather I prefer to take it seriously, which is perhaps not so pleasant for its authors.

This is what they say to Senator Taft and Congressman Hartley: "We're grateful to you because your law inspired such unanimity of conviction and brought out the true strength of our union. It enabled us to overcome the vigorous and continuous opposition of many employers in our industry to the establishment of an industry-wide health and welfare fund, for which our new contract provides. This fund, paid for solely by our employers, will provide us with sickness and disability aid, hospitalization, surgical care, life insurance and other benefits."

Quite so. It was under the Taft-Hartley act that an election was held by the union and that 99 1/2 percent of its members voted for the union. There is nothing in the Taft-Hartley act that discourages such action by union members; all that the act requires is that provision shall be made for an honest election in which the members are not coerced by professional labor barons who have come to regard the labor unions as their private business, if not as personal rackets.

The paper box makers, in their advertisement, go further: "1937 a great portion of the New York paper box industry (unorganized) paid most of its workers $10 to 12, with a substantial number paying $6 to $8 a week."

"1941 in over 50 percent of the industry (unorganized) the overall average was $17.20. In union plants the over-all average was $22.40."

"1948 wage increases under the new industry-wide agreement (95 percent organized), effective September 1, will establish an overall weekly average of about $47, plus a welfare plan, 8 paid holidays, and extended vacation provisions."

"Our new agreement establishes minimum standards of $36 for semiskilled, and grades up to $65 for skilled workers. Many workers are paid in varying sums above their required minimums, and in the higher brackets a fair number reach $75 to $85 a week. Peak wages reach as high as $100."

These increases, the 1948 ones, were arranged during the existence of the Taft-Hartley act. Every item during the year 1948 was arranged under the law which is advertisement means to treat sarcastically. Nothing in the law prevents unions and employers from making such arrangements.

rangements, provided the negotiations do not degenerate into economic blackmail. The law does not oppose trade unionism; it does oppose economic blackmail.

The Taft-Hartley act is, as a matter of objective fact, a greater protective to the working man than the Wagner Act, because while it safeguards collective bargaining, it also protects the worker against exploitation of professional labor careerists and from such Communists as have invaded the labor movement and who use it not in the interest of the American worker but for such purposes as the Kremlin may determine upon. No matter what the opponents of the Taft-Hartley bill may have said about it, James Carey, secretary of the C. I. O., has established the infiltration of Communists into American trade unionism and the fact that they put the Kremlin before the United States and even the interests of union members.

Senator Taft and Congressman Hartley should be grateful for the paper box makers union advertisement. It explains how beneficial the Taft-Hartley act has been. Yet, after proving by the facts the value of the Taft-Hartley act to this union and its members, it states in its advertisement:

"... In the end this cost all the people of these unfortunate lands their freedom, their liberty and their democracy. We can't let that happen here. Even though the scheme of the N. A. M., aided and abetted by you, miscarried this time, we can't take chances. We, of organized labor, are therefore actively participating in this unceasing struggle to repeal your unfair and undemocratic legislation. On this coming Labor Day we pledge ourselves to do all in our power to bring about the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law."

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE rather strange-looking word "decapryn" may eventually spell relief for uncounted thousands of sufferers from hay fever, hives, and similar allergic disorders. Decapryn is the name of a new drug which, in the first tests, has proved singularly effective against the discomforts caused by allergy or over-sensitivity.

Just why some people react as they do to certain substances which are inoffensive to others is not known, but something, at least, of the whys and the wherefores of their reaction is understood.

Formation of Histamine

When a person eats a food to which he is sensitive or breathes a pollen or dust to which he is allergic, the body resists it by the formation of large quantities of histamine. It is the accumulation of histamine and not the food or dust as such which produces the unpleasant symptoms of the various allergic disorders.

Thus, recent research has concentrated on the production of drugs which will combat histamine. During the past few years two have been discovered—benadryl and pyribenzamine. Now decapryn has been added to the list.

In a series of patients treated with decapryn, about 80 per cent of all allergic symptoms were completely relieved. On the other hand, the effects in the treatment of asthma were not as good. Of 54 patients, about one-third were relieved to a great extent, and two-fifths were moderately benefited. In the remainder, there was no noticeable improvement.

Reaction May Occur

With this preparation, as with others of this type, certain reactions may occur, the most common of which is drowsiness. This symptom developed in about one out of six of those treated. However, of the total number of those who reported reactions, the majority were suffering from asthma and, therefore, had received comparatively large doses. Reactions in other patients were for the most part quite moderate. With the moderate dosage required in treating allergic conditions other than asthma, reactions occurred in less than one out of ten cases.

It would appear that further studies of this newer anti-histamine preparation are indicated. From those already reported, there is reason to hope that this new drug will have great value in the treatment of many patients suffering from allergy, particularly those with hay fever and hives.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

W. L.: Could you suggest the cause for a burning, itching sensation of the scalp?

Answer: Such a condition may be due to a mild, low grade inflammation of the scalp, infection by a parasite, or an allergic disorder.

A thorough examination by a skin specialist would be necessary to determine the cause.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Farming" Versus "Ranching"

Talked to some editors who run my column in their papers—in states where there's mostly cattle and sheep raising—about the differences there might be between farming and ranching.

And they told me: "Joe, there's no real difference between cattle-men and farmers. We make our living from the land like your folks do; we have the same 4-H Clubs and Granges; the same problems of prices and marketing."

When it comes to recreation, we have the same liking to get together now and then for a barbecue and a friendly glass of beer."

And from where I sit, that about sums it up. Ranchers may have different names for things or grow different crops. But all over America folks who work the land share those common traits of hard work, sober moderation, and good fellowship, whether they're growing cattle for beef, or barley for good American beer and ale.

WIRE YOUR FARM FOR SUCCESS

Adequate Wiring Aids Profitable

Farming, Successful Living

To enjoy all the benefits of modern electrical living and electrical farming, you need Adequate Wiring. Bringing your farmstead up to 1948 Adequate Wiring standards is neither difficult nor expensive. Here are a few of the points to consider:

From the three-wire entrance service lines to the farthest outlet in house or farm building, be sure your electric wires are heavy enough to carry ample current capacity for your needs, present and future. Only with an adequate number of circuits and wires heavy enough can you guard against overloading and voltage drops that dim lights and reduce the efficiency of motors and appliances.

Plan to include enough heavy-duty circuits and outlets for portable utility motors in granary, barn, repair shop or garage. It is a good idea to include several spare terminals for addition of more circuits as your future needs may require them.

Plenty of handy control switches make for safety as well as convenience. Switches that let you light your way ahead—in and out of house or farm buildings, up and down steps, about the yard and feed lot at chore time—save many a painful accident.

For practical suggestions on Adequate Wiring, consult your County Agriculture Agent, your Vocational Agriculture Instructor or the Farm Representative of the electric power and light company serving your neighborhood.

Find Regarded Important to Archaeology

An unusual and important find has been made on the Orleton farm, 10 miles northwest of West Jefferson, where G. W. Putnam, manager of the farm, uncovered skeletons and a tube pipe.

Raymond S. Baby, of the State Historical Society staff, was notified, and nine skeletons, two tube pipes, and two bone awls were found. The skeletons were flexed, that is, knees to chest and hands to face. All remains were found in a pit from two to five feet deep.

The most important fact in this case is, that it is the first time a trained archaeologist has excavated material believed to be of the "Gravel Knoll People." Before this, information has been here-say and materials taken to the Ohio State Museum have been given by interested people, but not excavated by those trained to evaluate the evidence found.

Ohioans are proving to be archaeology conscious. Several times in recent months when excavations have revealed skeletons, pottery, and other material, the work has been stopped and specialists called. This is of vital importance in reconstructing a true picture of Ohio's prehistoric peoples. A notable example of this was on the Ater farm at Frankfort, this summer. "Gravel Kame People," a prehistoric Indian group who were wanderers, and buried their dead in gravel knolls, are believed to have lived between 500 and 900 A. D. All evidence so far has restricted their location to west and northwest Ohio, southeast Michigan, and the most easterly portion of Indiana.

Scores of these burials have been found in Fayette County, one of the most important having been on the Engle farm on the beautifully decorated with fall flowers, fern and seven branch candelabra.

The bride was attired in a gray gabardine suit with navy accessories and wore a corsage of red roses. She carried a white Bible.

Mrs. Leo Kelso, her only attendant, was dressed in an aqua suit with brown accessories and wore a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Dowler, mother of the bride, was dressed in gray with accessories of black. Mrs. Knisley, the groom's mother, wore black. Each mother wore a white corsage.

Ushers were Marlin Dowler and Roger Knisley. Mr. Leo Kelso performed the duties of best man.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. John E. Diffendal presented one-half hour of nuptial music and Miss Beulah Taylor of Springfield, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

Following the ceremony the young couple left on a wedding trip and upon their return will live in South Solon.

Mrs. Knisley is a nurse at City Hospital, Springfield and Mr. Knisley is employed at the Oliver in Springfield.

Chemically Toughened Dirt Is Used for Low Cost Roads

BY RENNIE TAYLOR

PORTLAND, Ore. — (AP) — Low cost roads made out of chemically toughened dirt now are possible because of recent advances in soil stabilization, a Princeton University scientist asserted today.

The toughening process is done by adding plastics or other chemicals to the soil that is to form the traffic lanes. Paving which can withstand pressures even better than concrete can be made cheaply, Dr. Hans F. Winterkorn told the American Chemical Society.

Roads of this kind are being projected in Argentina and the process may be extended to the building of houses in South America or other places where many people construct their own houses of earth to keep down labor costs, Dr. Winterkorn said.

The method should work well for the extension of highway paving into remote areas where regular paving would be too costly, Dr. Winterkorn reported.

The plasticizing of soils for roads and landing strips came into wide use during World War II but was limited because engineers thought they had to destroy all vegetable matter in the soil to prevent later breakdown of their paving material.

Now, Dr. Winterkorn said, it has become possible to use soil containing large amounts of vegetable matter for the paving material. This is done by adding chemicals which stabilize and waterproof the soil so that bacteria cannot attack and break down the vegetable matter.

This new understanding of soil stabilization should make the plasticizing process workable in the semi-arid western plains from the Dakotas to west Texas, and in places like the Soviet Ukraine, where vegetable matter extends deep below the surface, Dr. Winterkorn reported.

One of the chemicals used is aniline fufural, a plastic. Some kinds of tar and a little cement also are used. They are designed to make the soil tough but not brittle.

Contract Is Let For Resurfacing

Brewer and Brewer Sons, Inc., of Chillicothe, were awarded the contract for grading, and resurfacing 2.67 miles of U. S. Route 35, in and near Frankfort, at the bid of $107,835.

The estimated cost of the job was $110,700. The improvement is one which has long been needed, and includes widening the road over part of the route.

Home Wedding Unites Couple In Marriage

Of interest to friends here, is the wedding on Saturday morning, September 11, at a quarter to twelve in the morning, of Miss Martha Joan Belt and Mr. Samuel Edwin Buck. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Homer F. Belt and the late Mr. Belt of near Orient and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Buck of the Atlanta Road, near New Holland.

In a setting of impressive beauty the ceremony was performed at the home of the bride in the presence of the immediate families with the Rev. C. A. Hunter, of Columbus, officiating before a fire-place which was banked with huckleberry and arbutus foliage sentinelled at either end with a single white taper.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Carleton Belt of this city.

She chose for her wedding the traditional white satin gown fashioned with a long fitted bodice, with a lace yoke. The full skirt ended in a short train and her fingertip veil, was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms.

She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses and staphanotis.

Mrs. Vance C. Hendricks, of Columbus, sister of the bride was her matron of honor and only attendant.

Her floor length aqua taffeta gown featured a cascade of ruffles in the back, and her short circular veil blended with her gown.

She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mr. Donald Tanquary Buck served his brother as best man.

At two-thirty in the afternoon the Belt home was the scene of a lovely reception honoring the couple, and Mrs. Belt received the guests in a deep blue crepe dress with a corsage of deep red gladiolus.

The groom's mother was wearing a brown ensemble and her corsage was of pink gladiolus.

Later when the new Mr. and Mrs. Buck left on their honeymoon to the east coast, the bride wore for traveling a modish suit of green and brown wool with accessories of cocoa brown.

Upon their return they will reside in Columbus where they both will resume their studies in the fall term at Ohio State University, as juniors.

Mrs. Buck is majoring in home economics and Mr. Buck in rural economics and animal husbandry.

Mrs. Layman Is Speaker At Class Meeting

Seventeen members and two guests Mrs. Elizabeth Ervin and Mrs. Mary Gillispie who attended the regular meeting of the Marguerite Class of the First Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening were served a delicious dessert course at the church house presiding the business session.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Jess Robinett, Mrs. Clark Pensyl, Mrs. Eugene Smith, and Mrs. Sterling Fox. The president Mrs. Homer Bireley, opened the meeting and Mrs. Darrell Williams was in charge of the devotional period, reading Scripture from First Corinthians and a poem entitled "Patterns." Mrs. Byron Layman gave an interesting resume of her recent trip to the gold and silver mines in Ontario, Canada.

She displayed several specimens of cobalt, leaf silver, quartz and iron ore, taken from these mines. Mrs. Layman, was denied admission to the mines because of the miner's superstition. During her talk she stressed the increasingly high cost of processing the two minerals compared with the apparently small value received. At the close of her talk she graciously answered several questions. Mrs. Robert Craig presented Mrs. Mary Louise Rowlette, who talked briefly on the Community Concert series.

In the absence of the secretary and treasurer these reports were read by Mrs. C. L. Musser and Miss Clara Davis and approved. Several projects were discussed, and a donation was made to support the "Deacon Beacon." At the close of the meeting the group enjoyed informal visiting.

Kindness Kills Joy

Neighbors' Donations and Help Offers To Replace Burned House Just Too Much

ST. LOUIS—(P)—Roy Webb's joy of living has been killed by other people's kindnesses.

Webb, a war veteran out of the quartermaster corps, lost his home and his belongings in a fire several months ago. His troubles began when neighbors collected $772 to help him.

Here are his complaints: "Everyone is careful to mention how much he contributed. I've added it all up and it comes to about $5,000.

"They all think I'm a millionaire because one group said it was going to try to raise $7,000 for me.

"The neighbors expected me to build a new house overnight. I've had to spend so much time at it I lost my job as a sign erector.

"Carpenters, electricians, plasterers and others volunteered to help but none ever showed up. "People wouldn't let me build the kind of house I wanted. I wanted something fabricated but they all insist I build something more expensive."

Webb said he is selling the half-completed house so he can return the contributions.

"I want to get back my self-respect," he said.

A spokesman from the group which rounded up the contributions sympathized, "Some of the persons may be jealous and patronizing but the donations were made from the kindness of our hearts. He doesn't owe us anything and I'm sure no one will accept the return of their donations."

Congress Blamed For Export Snarls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16—(P)—It is Congress' fault that irregularities have occurred in export controls, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer told the lawmakers today.

He said irregularities now under investigation on Capitol Hill occurred in 1946 and 1947 before he became secretary.

And in those years, he asserted, "Congress slashed the export control appropriation to a starvation level, so that it was physically impossible either to employ the people or the equipment needed to make controls fully tight and effective."

One of the Nation's Foremost Teachers Spent Summer Here

A national celebrity among school teachers, whose unusual talents and methods of handling school children in Morgantown, W. Va., resulted in her being featured in the April issue of the Reader's Digest, spent the summer in Fayette County, with only a very few persons learning of her real identity.

Miss Ruth Myers

She is Miss Ruth Myers, and the Reader's Digest article featured her on the second page of the April issue as "The Richest Woman in Morgantown," and turned the spotlight of publicity upon her so forcibly that her coming to Fayette County for the summer formed a welcome relief from the avalanche of mail, telephone calls and personal visits of people from all over the United States.

She came here early in the summer as a companion for Jane Ann McCoy, and recently returned to Morgantown to resume her teaching in the first grade school there, at less than half the salary she had been offered in other places.

Among the millions who read the article about Miss Myers was Valdo R. McCoy, this county, who wrote to Miss Myers offering her the post of companion for Jane Ann during the summer, and Miss Myers turned down all other offers, came here, and spent the summer accordingly.

She requested that no information be given as to the Reader's Digest article, so she could really enjoy a summer of rest, and this is why only a few persons were aware that she was Miss Myers "The Richest Woman in Morgantown."

Miss Myers spoke freely of her experiences after the Digest article appeared. How she was besieged with fan mail, some containing funds to be used in helping her little charges; others making attractive offers; some proposing marriage, and some of a critical nature.

She was besieged with long distance telephone calls offering her lucrative jobs in various schools and some of the large centers of learning.

Also with a small army of persons from all over the nation, asking for information, advice, offering jobs, and making proposals of marriage.

She admitted that coming to Fayette County was a great relief from the notoriety into which she had been plunged overnight by the Digest article.

Branded by Blake Clark, author of the Reader's Digest article, as "one of America's outstanding teachers," Miss Myers, now 45 years of age, has some very practical ideas and ideals about teaching which she has used for years, and which have attracted widespread attention by the results obtained in applying her methods. "Every child is different and must be dealt with differently, for each one has a distinct personality, and you must know the child and its background to obtain best results, for you can not just turn pupils out of a classroom like so many little sausages" is the way she sizes up her work.

Gifted with personality, plus, Miss Myers ascertains the background of her little charges; tests their capabilities along various lines, and finds out their likes and dislikes; their hobbies, and as much as possible about their home life, then puts forth every effort to help the child in every way possible, even at her own expense in many instances.

As result of her years of teaching the youngsters in Morgantown, she is now teaching the youngsters of her first pupils, and has won a close place in the hearts of a host of Morgantown citizens by making each child a personal friend as well as a pupil.

Quoting from the Reader's Digest article:

"Probably few persons outside of Monongalia County, West Virginia, have ever heard of Ruth Myers. But she is one of the outstanding teachers in the United States. Now that I have visited Morgantown I know why the U. S. Office of Education, which recently completed a nation-wide teacher survey, thinks so.

"In Morgantown, an industrial and college town of 17,000, I found Ruth Myers living above the Tri-State Dry Cleaner's Shop on smog-enveloped High Street. She has a $40 a month bedroom and living room, cooks her own meals and does her own house-keeping. Grownup former students vouch that she looks the same today, at 45 as she did 20 years ago. Her flaxen hair is graying, but smooth aquiline features and trim figure keeps her looking young.

"Ruth Myers teaches 61 children in the first grade of the Second Ward School. She has a fragile charm that wins over children at first sight and is devoted to her work. Six-year-old children, she says, are at the most important age in life. They are explosive, contradictory, in need of affection yet apt to reject it. If they are rebuffed or unsuccessful in this important formative year, they may develop fears that will lay the foundation for a lifetime sense of insecurity.

"So Miss Myers spends much time and effort to make sure each child feels warmly welcome in her room. A newcomer who arrives in mid-term from another town is likely to feel forlorn among strange surroundings. Miss Myers locates a book he has been accustomed to, and lets him read to his new schoolmates from the familiar story.

She appoints a "big brother" to show the child around and see that he takes part in the games at recess.

"The child shivering in tattered trousers and worn-out shoes is unhappy, and would be even more so if he had to accept public charity. Miss Myers distributes garments to such youngsters without their classmates knowing it.

"No matter how many after school hours she spends preparing the next day's work, Miss Myers takes time to write to every child absent because of illness.

"Reading is the most important skill a child requires, Miss Myers believes. She has worked untiringly to perfect her methods of instruction, and is known throughout the state as an expert.

"Miss Myers avoids making any formal distinction between her groups. "No child ever feels he is backward unless he is told so." "A love of reading permeates the class. On a table are dozens of good storybooks, with few new

Many Fayette Countians To Visit Air Base

Sunday is Air Force Day at Patterson-Wright Fields

The many Fayette Countians who attend the Air Force Day open house at the Wight-Patterson Air Force Base, Sunday, from noon until 6 P. M., will see the brightest jewel of the nation's aviation diadem on display there.

That will be the F-86, the sleek jet plane that smashed to smithereens the present official world speed record of 650 and a fraction miles per hour during the recent Cleveland air races.

On that single speed test, the F-86 hurtled over the three kilometer course in an unofficial average of 669 miles an hour, but was denied the official title as the fastest plane in the world because of failure of a timing camera to function properly.

In addition to the F-86, the ground exhibit will include several other jet models and some of the newer types of bomber and fighter planes. These will include the gargantuan B-36, a six-engine bomber that is the world's largest land plane.

The static display will be centered around one of the mammoth hangars adjacent to the Area B flight line, scene of the show. The exhibit will be sandwiched around flight demonstrations also included in the afternoon schedule.

Experts from air installations at the base this week are putting the finishing touches on decorations in the hangar. Visitors will find an inspection "route" along the U-shaped line of displays which will embrace the latest products of an intensive research and development program maintained by the command during the past year. The open house marks the conclusion of the first year of parity with the army and navy and the exhibit will reflect much of the air force's process during that 12-month period.

For instance, planes complete with all combat components will form the nucleus of the hangar display. Supplementing this exhibit will be sections devoted to guns, rockets, bomb sights and other accessories by the Armament Laboratory.

Still another section will stress developments in the electronics field, this the work by the Electronics Sub-Division. One of the highlights here will be demonstrations of radio remote control.

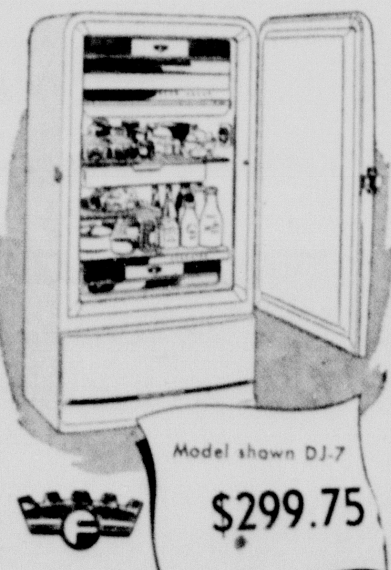

Aerial cameras will copy the spotlight in the photographic laboratory or difficult words in them, which the children read for fun.

"Morgantown parents love Ruth Myers because she develops children's self confidence while inculcating in them a respect for the rights of others.

"An editorial in the Morgantown Dominion-News recently said: "Ruth Myers ranks with the great in a profession star-studded with those whose contributions to our generations do more to make democracy live and endure than any other single group of persons."

Impossible' Achieved

Trombone, Trumpet Both Played by Sonny

Sonny Dunham

Members of the Washington C. H. squadron of the National Air Forces Association today were giving the final push to their plans for Saturday night's dance at Roller Haven, half a mile west of the city limits on the CCC Highway, which is to climax the Air Forces Day observance here.

The more sober features of the celebration are scheduled for mid-day when Superforts and jet planes are to appear in the sky over Washington C. H.

The grand final is to come in the evening at the dance at Roller Haven with Sonny Dunham and his orchestra as the headline attraction.

New Dance Floor

The Roller Haven—which is to be a roller skating rink as the name implies—was completed only this week. The Air Force squadron boys have but three days to get it ship-shape for the dance atmosphere.

Unofficially, members of the squadron have intimated that they will have to have a crowd of "about a thousand" to come out on their admittedly ambitious venture. But, with the confidence that carried them through two wars successfully, they say the advance sale of tickets is "going good."

The reputation of Sonny Dunham and his orchestra, one of the top name bands of the country, has been a big drawing card, they say. And, Sonny Dunham himself is an outstanding attraction in his own right.

'Impossible' Achieved

Musicians and teachers have long maintained it was next to impossible to master both the trumpet and trombone because of the difference in embouchure—the technical term for the set of lip muscles to play a wind instrument.

But, Sonny Dunham has done it.

Advance notices for the band say it is a matter of record that Harry James and Tommy Dorsey merely stare in disbelief when Dunham plays first one and then the other. His unique achievement has been featured in Ripley's "Believe It or Not."

Dunham was born in 1912 in Brockton, Mass., and six years later was sparking the brass section of the Dunham family orchestra, a unique Brockton enterprise. Every member of his family was in the band which played for most of the city's social events.

Dunham's first break came through his sister's ambition to make a name for herself in New York. With a job in the office of Ben Bernie, "The Old Maestro," she began beating the drums for her younger brother. Soon he came to New York with his trombone under his arm.

Sonny Gets His Start

He starred for six months in the trombone section of Paul Tremaine's orchestra. Tremaine's

Best Yet To Come

presentations with only one show, he said, "hardly broke even."

The contract with the producers, he declared, provides for payment of expenses first before either the producers or sponsors start to share the proceeds.

"If the shows do not draw two full houses," Hayes said, "there's no point in putting them on."

Two Shows Next Month

Plans have been made for two shows for the next month's revue, one at 7 P. M. and another at 9:30 P. M. "And they will be given regardless . . ." Hayes said.

Two shows were planned for this month's edition, but the second show was cancelled when the ticket sale did not justify putting it on.

Hayes repeated that the Park Board's primary purpose in sponsoring "The Best Is Yet To Come" series is to raise money to build a swimming pool in the park. That, he added, he thought was "certainly a worthy purpose" and one in which everyone in the community is interested and wants to support.

But, he made it plain that the Park Board felt the revues were "well worth the money" themselves. Comments after the two previous shows were cited to back up that view.

Promotion Changes

Some changes in the promotion policies have been made, the board secretary said. For one thing, the acts on the programs are going to be announced in advance. Heretofore, the public has not known, except in a general way, what the entertainment was until the curtain was raised.

Next month's program is to be made up of 11 professional variety acts, plus one or two featuring local talent. Skit Henderson's band, considered one of the top "name bands" of the country is to be featured.

Both Hayes and Craig said there was a noticeable increase in interest in the BIYTC series and cited the increase in advance ticket sales to support their optimism.

$25,000 Farm Fire Near Williamsport

A $25,000 fire destroyed three buildings on the John H. Dunlap farm east of Williamsport and two fire companies drained two cisterns and a well in fighting the blaze.

The fire destroyed a barn, garage and a storage building, along with all contents, including automobiles, tractors, trailers and other valuable property.

Origin of the fire was undetermined.

Old Age Pensions

mum old-age assistance payments from $50 to $55. Congress had previously raised the federal government's share in old-age assistance from $45 to $50.

The Division of Aid for the Aged reported it has reviewed each old age pension case in the state in an effort to determine eligibility for the increase. The average individual monthly increase, the division said, will range from $4.50 to $4.75.

Karl R. Babb, chief of the state Division of Aid for the Aged, said the increase would be based on individual need and would not be a flat $5 monthly boost.

Babb said in August 123,181 pensioners received $5,163,408 in old age benefits and estimated the October hike would bring the cost to $5,700,000.

"We had added extra temporary staff members who have worked day and night to complete the job as near schedule as possible for the October check mailings," Babb said.

"The volume of work connected with the new budget studies has been about 10 times a normal month's work."

New Magnetic Metal Developed by Dupont

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

WILMINGTON, Del., (AP)—A magic new metal, titanium, chemical element number 22, which makes wartime smoke screens and the finest white paint, was announced by the Dupont Company.

Titanium is a natural, silver-white metal, one of the lighter weights, but never has been made in metallic form because of the difficulties of extracting it from minerals. The Duponts discovered a chemical process to make the metal.

This stuff is hard as iron, strong as stainless steel and resists rust as well as stainless steel. It is half the weight of iron, and less than twice the weight of aluminum, but is much stronger than aluminum.

Even before any industrial uses have been found, it looks promising for airplanes. And it may be one of the answers to improved jet and rocket speeds running higher than a thousand miles an hour. For it withstands great heat and great pressure, two handicaps in making jet and rocket engines. Titanium melts at 3140 degrees Fahrenheit.

This new metal is also plentiful, being number seven in the earth's most abundant metals. There is more titanium than lead, zinc, tin, antimony, nickel, copper, gold and silver. In fact, there is more titanium than all these eight added together.

The Dupont Company has erected a small pilot plant to produce 100 pounds a day, in ingots that are porous but hard, for industry to experiment on the uses both as a pure metal and as an alloy. The starting price is $5 a pound. That is high for a metal, but cheap for the first time a metal is made. The United States is believed to have enormous resources in titanium. At present, it comes from two minerals, rutile and ilmenite, which are found in New York, Florida, Virginia, North Carolina and Canada.

The Dupont engineers predict that titanium will form a new family of structural materials. Like other metals, it will be used to make alloys. It promises to add properties that are not available from other alloys.

The element titanium was discovered during the American Revolution, and until a few years ago was thought to be rare. Industry discovered its paint, smoke and other uses when it had to be removed from some iron, where it appeared as a small impurity. It was extracted in the form of a powder. This powder soon became almost as valuable as the large masses of iron from which it was extracted, because of titanium's many chemical uses.

Prisoner Chokes Self To Death in His Cell

CHILLICOTHE, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Elmer Harry Elder, 21, of McKees Rock, Pa., choked himself to death in his cell at the federal reformatory here yesterday. Warden L. Clark Schilder reported. State Aid To Cities Campaign Issue

COLUMBUS, Sept. 16.—(AP)—The sign pointed to a possibility that Ohio Democrats will do a lot of state help for cities claiming to need money.

Two key spots in the party's state convention here Thursday and Friday have been filled with leaders, on the cities' side, in this fight. They are Michael V. Disalle, mayor of Toledo, named temporary chairman of the resolutions and platform committee, and Thomas A. Burke, mayor of Cleveland, keynoter of the opening session and temporary chairman of the convention.

Disalle is a probable permanent chairman of the committee. Burke is a close friend of a former Cleveland mayor who is the party's nominee for governor, Frank J. Lausche.

More of Route 35 To Be Resurfaced

A resurfacing project on Route 35, for a distance of 3.45 miles east of Jamestown, drew a low bid from the Fenton Construction Co. of Ashland, of $34,256. The estimated cost was $37,660.

The job must be done with asphaltic concrete and be completed by July 31 of next year.

Specifications prohibit laying the asphaltic concrete and bituminous tract between Oct. 31 and May 15, except by special permission of the state highway director.

To Your Dinner Table With

Maximum Freshness

Perfect Original Loaf Shape

And Sanitation Plus!

ABOVE: Loaves are taken from conveyor and placed four broadside into specially designed precisely dimensioned corrugated cardboard tubes. Shape of loaves is protected from mashing.

Holsum is the first to introduce this revolutionary method of bread handling in southern Ohio. How to pack a soft perishable commodity in such a manner as to insure its reaching the customer's table extra fresh and still in its original loaf shape has ever presented a problem to the baking industry. Holsum has the solution to that problem in this greatest advancement since the advent of the continuous bake oven.

From the time our bread is placed on the slicing machine until you take it from the wrapper to place on your table, the loaf does not come in contact with human hands—thus affording sanitation plus. The loaves pass from the wrapping machine on a conveyor to where they are loaded into tubes that insure each individual loaf reaching your table in exactly the same shape it is after leaving the wrapper.

With our method, it is as though each of our 25,000 daily customers journeyed to our bakery for their bread.

Until you have tried Holsum or Aunt Hattie you do not know supreme bread pleasure.

LEFT: Tubes are loaded into truck in tiers that form a strong honeycombed load. There is still no possibility of mashing from weight or handling.

RIGHT: Route man removes Holsum and Aunt Hattie's from the tubes to the dealer's display rack. Loaves are first touched by hands when the individual buys the bread from his grocer. This represents the last word in sanitary delivery.

THERE YOU HAVE THE WORD AND PICTURE ACCOUNT OF THE OPERATIONS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE SUPER FRESHNESS AND PERFECT SHAPE OF THESE TWO POPULAR FAVORITES.

Air Attack Looms For Lions' Opener

Although there was a possibility that the WHS all-star backfield might be broken up by injuries before it makes its first start against the boys from Linden-McKinley at Gardner Park here Friday night, one thing did seem just about as certain as certainties go in football—the crowd will see plenty of footballs flying through the air.

There was no telling what the Columbus team will do on the offense, but if recent workouts are any indication, the Blue Lions will turn on a sizeable air attack.

Coach Fred Pierson, who maps the strategy for WHS, of course did not say just what was planned for Friday night. He was so obviously pleased, however, with the Lion passing and receiving that the "downtown coaches" who line the stands for the workouts are convinced the air attack will play an important part in the offense.

Coach Steve Lewis, who has developed what everyone agrees is one of the best backfield combinations ever to wear the blue and white, was somewhat glum in his view of the future.

Bill Smith, one of the SCO League's outstanding ball carriers, still is limping on a bad knee. So is Joe Brandon, the bruising line-backer and blocking quarterback. There is a possibility that Smith may not get in Friday night's game. Brandon probably will.

Only Bill Campbell, the fleet-footed halfback, and Captain Gene Sagar, the solid fast-breaking full-back, appear ready for the opening whistle.

If Smith is out of the lineup, Dave Looker probably will go into the backfield.

On the line, where experience is at a premium with only Frelan Van Meter, at tackle and guard, and Dick O'Brien, at tackle and end, are the only veterans, things look brighter from the point of view of physical condition. What the linemen lack in experience they make up in spirit and ruggedness. They are not big, but they are tough and fast.

Wednesday afternoon's drill stressed the fundamentals and it was not too strenuous. A skill practice was held in the evening.

Here are the probable starting lineups for Friday night's opener:

Blue Lions Columbus

Bob Dawson LE John Goodrich

Frelan VanMeter LT Robert Webb

Glenn Cook LG James Haley

George Phillips C Robert Lyle

Bill Horney RG Pete Davis

Barry Smith RT George Kriel

Dick O'Brien RE Jake Simpson

Joe Brandon QB Danny Dover

Bill Cambell LH Arden Taggart

Buck Scrimmage Plan Bogs Down

COLUMBUS, Sept. 16—(AP)—Football practice at Ohio State was called at the end of a messy morning session yesterday because of wet grounds—but it didn't rain in the capital Wednesday.

Sombody left the sprinklers at Buckeye Stadium going too long Tuesday night and by morning the field was a gooey quagmire.

So Coach Wesley Fesler called off what he had hoped would be one of his most important practice scrimmages before the Missouri opener Sept. 25.

The interruption held up Fesler's tryout of back Jerry Krall, who has been in the hospital list with muscle trouble in his legs. The ailment followed a knee operation.

The Bucks spent most of the morning passing to avoid scrimmage in the muddy field.

Grand Circuit At Delaware This Month

DELAWARE. —The Grand Circuit will put in its annual appearance at the Delaware County Fair, Sept. 20-24.

This means that the elite of harness racing of the mile and half-mile tracks will vie for some $100,000 in purses that is being hung out by rotund Joe Neville and his associates.

This is by far the biggest pile of money either harness horses or runners will race for in Ohio this year in any single week.

Stellar attraction of the meeting will be the second renewal of the Little Brown Jug stake. This year it is expected to have a purse of $50,000 awaiting the ten or a dozen crack three-year-old pacers that are expected to go to the post.

The Jug will be the speed test that will draw in the neighborhood of 30,000 fans to Delaware from all sections of the United States. Expected to go to the post as favorite will be last year's world's record breaking star, Knight Dream. He climaxed his two-year-old campaign by pacing in 2:00 2-5 seconds at the Lexington Trots to erase the previous mark of 2:00 1-2 that was set a few years ago by Jimmy Creed.

Many observers already are figuring that the world's records for three-year-old pacers will fall this month at Delaware.

The big punch that again has shoved Calumet past the million mark—something no other racing outfit has accomplished—was provided this season by the sensational Citation.

However, trainer Jimmy Jones sent out some second stringers yesterday to clean up $26,875 in two races at Belmont Park, for a grand 1948 total to date of $1,023,010.

While Citation munched oats in his barn, Coaltown took care of the 79th running of the Jerome Handicap, with his stablemate Free America third.

Coaltown's share was $21,450, with Free America collecting $2,500 third money. Then, in the seventh race Whirl Right was right, and bagged another $2,925 for the Chicago baking powder man.

The Chicago fire in 1871 burned 17,000 buildings, and caused damage estimated at $168 millions.

Reds Split Twin Bill; Boston Teams in Lead

By RALPH RODEN
(By the Associated Press)

The Boston Red Sox' inability to hold their own with the cellar-dwelling White Sox in Chicago this year could cost them the American League pennant.

Murdered in Boston's Fenway Park where they dropped 10 of 11 games, the White Sox have whipped the league leaders in 7 of 11 games at home.

Ted Lyons' crew yesterday added insult to injury, by handing Joe McCarthy's outfit its worst beating of the season. The White Sox exploded for ten runs in the seventh inning to blitz the Red Sox, 17-10.

The defeat melted Boston's margin over the runner-up New York Yankees to a game and a half. The third place Cleveland Indians, who like the Yanks were idle, also picked up a half game and they now trail by three and one-half games.

While the White Sox upset the Red Sox, Chicago's other last place entry in the majors, the Cubs, continued to act as "cousins" for the National League's pennant bound Boston Braves.

The Braves, aided by four errors, clipped the Cubs, 5-2, in their final meeting of the season. The triumph was their 16th over the Cubs in 22 outings this season. The triumph enabled the Braves to stay five games ahead of the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates, who whipped the Giants, 8-3, in New York.

The St. Louis Cardinals moved into a tie with the Brooklyn Dodgers for third place, a half game behind Pittsburgh, by beating Philadelphia, 2-0, while the Dodgers split a twin bill with the Cincinnati Reds.

After the Reds edged the Dodgers, 3-2, in the opener behind the six hit pitching of Howie Fox, Brooklyn grabbed the nightcap, 2-1 as Lefty Preacher Roe spun a seven hitter for his tenth victory. Ken Raffensberger was on the mound for the Reds.

In the other American League games, the Detroit Tigers beat the Washington Senators, 4-2, and the Philadelphia Athletics nipped the Browns, 8-7, in 12 innings in a night game at St. Louis.

Fight Bosses Pave Way for Louis Return

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16—(AP)—The National Boxing Association said today there is no "logical contender" for Joe Louis' heavyweight title.

Following its usual custom in rating fighters, the NBA divided each weight division into four groups—champion, logical contenders, outstanding boxers and honorable mention.

At least one logical contender was listed in every division except the heavyweights. Among the heavies, the NBA named Jersey Joe Walcott, Ezzard Charles, Joe Baksi and Lee Savold as outstanding boxers.

Although Louis has until Dec.

25 to officially notify the NBA whether he'll retire, Abe J. Greene, who yesterday was named to the newly created position of commission shortly will announce plans to provide either a new champion or a logical contender for the Brown Bomber.

Greene said the bout next Tuesday at Jersey City between Walcott and Gus Lesnevich will play an important part in the plans of the NBA to develop a possible successor to Louis. Lesnevich was rated as the logical contender for the light heavyweight title, stripped from him by Freddie Mills of England during the summer.

INDICTED FOR MURDER
HILLSBORO —A first degree murder indictment against William E. Mullenix, who shot and killed his divorced wife, Betty on the streets here, was returned by the grand jury. Twelve others were indicted for various offenses.

Playoff Series In AA Evened Up

(By the Associated Press)

Contenders in the American Association's 13th annual governor's cup series are tied today.

Defeated Tuesday in the first round of the semi-final playoffs, pennant-winning Indianapolis and second place Milwaukee bounced back last night to make it one-all in the four-of-seven series.

Indianapolis defeated St. Paul, third place finishers in season play, 8 to 2 at Indianapolis. Milwaukee whipped Columbus 10 to 3 at Milwaukee.

Share of the Money From OSU Football Wanted by Columbus

COLUMBUS, Sept. 16—(AP)—Ohio State University's big stadium may have to cut the city of Columbus in on its million dollar football business.

A city admissions tax, which became effective last Oct. 1, would not only apply to this year's business but was retroactive to Oct. 1 of the 1947 season, City Auditor R. P. Berthalow said.

Berthalow said he would meet with University officials to discuss the three percent levy.

Oscar L. Thomas, O. S. U. ticket sales director has objected to the tax because the stadium is University property and its receipts are public funds.

NEWS FOR THE PEOPLE

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health

REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's Laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. Nutritious drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hippocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional deficiencies, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, listless, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliant, when head aches, and you feel old, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down — it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dread diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ill. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous waters. We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thionin in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to "break away."

Read What They Say!

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"— says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.— "but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised that the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize its value. GEO-MINERAL is not a physic, and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines thoroughly, relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system, and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis and rheumatism leaving, and Nature starting to complete the recovery.

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.
